To Whom It May Concern

Brad Friis has worked for Adplus for 15 months. During that time his duties included promoting the services of our company to prospective Advertising and Web based clients in a professional manner (his role with Adplus was obviously quite defined as are all roles within our organisation).

I say a 'professional manner' because finding people with Brad's skill is not an easy thing. He was always pleasant but somehow managed to obtain an extraordinarily high strike rate from which many clients were converted. Often he did so with little or no material backup what so ever. People with Brad's skill do not come along every day.

Brad was always very quick to learn and came to us with the attitude of wanting to grow and develop his skill base. He came highly recommended and achieved far during the period he was with us than I had imagined would be the case. Often too I found Brad putting in hours over and above that expected in order to improve his results.

Brad leaves us of his own accord and I take this opportunity to wish him all the very best for the future.
