To Whom It May Concern,

Brad Friis was employed by CanWest Media Ltd. for a period of 2.5 years as a senior account manager. A solid client base was handed over with the position and Brad quickly learned how to successfully fulfill each of his client's individual needs.

Brad demonstrated exceptional abilities in all aspects of his role. His friendly and approachable manner made him a positive influence within his sales team and he was well liked. Brad quickly became known for thinking outside of the square and for creating new and untapped opportunities for his clients. Several of Brad's past clients have mentioned his ability a number of years on from his departure.

Monthly KPI targets were always achieved and Brad's dedication to his role resulted in consistent growth of his client base and overall billing for each quarter. He has a tenacious attitude toward his work and was often the leading member of his team. I found a highly commendable aspect of Brad's approach to his role was the innate ability to discover new methods of attracting and securing new business in what can be a very difficult industry to work in. Brad has considerable ability in developing an idea to proposal and then to presentation to a client with a more often than not winning result.

Brad's resignation was of his own choosing and I would consider Brad a great asset to any business development and account management role. Without reservation I would like to recommend him for any position he might consider in what I expect will be a very bright and rewarding future.
