Summary

With over 20 years driving growth across SaaS, advertising & design, sales, direct marketing, training design and high-end web development, I am now available for consulting work with SaaS companies in New Zealand and Australia. Services I can offer: Audit & Assess: product positioning, brand story and style guide, licensing frameworks, contract health, sales/marketing channels, UX/UI, and user adoption strategies. Strategise & Direct: creative campaigns, demo and proposal design & presentation, product localisation, training and adoption frameworks, licensing and reseller partnerships. Deliver & Grow: actionable reports and implementation plans that strengthen contracts, scale adoption, and drive measurable sales and brand impact. I bring an experienced creative eye for storytelling and design together with a strategist's rigour in sales, business development, vendor management, contracts, partnerships, and SaaS growth. My goal: To help SaaS companies scale across all areas of their business, with a particular focus on driving sales and internal team growth. Connect with me if you're a SaaS company in NZ or Australia, or business that's seeking strategic growth, more sales, creative direction, leadership, or hands-on consulting to unlock new opportunities that drive your next stage of success.
