Dear Brad,

It was a pleasure speaking with you yesterday.

While I'm naturally disappointed to hear that you may be exploring a career shift away from PowerSchool, I'm equally excited about what the future may hold for you.

Brad, you've been instrumental in managing the partnership with us. Your deep PowerSchool expertise and strong connections across our team, long-standing relationships with Schoology customers in New Zealand and Australia, and the trust you've built have all added significant value to our presence in the Oceania market.

That said, we'll continue to respect and support whatever direction you choose, and respond accordingly. Please do keep us updated as your plans evolve.

Wishing you clarity as you take the next step forward.

Warm regards,

Gavin Jeffries
